Welcome to AMCHAM's Newest AMBC Partners

Atomy is an international company, the world's leading brand of health and beauty products. It was founded in South Korea in 2009.

From the outset, president and founder Park Han-gil made clear the "to follow" transparent principles such as mutual understanding and support, believing this to be the key to the well-being of distributors. The uniqueness of the company lies in the fact that Mr. Park has studied the vast experience of successful network companies, and summarized all the positive experiences for Atomy marketing. One of Atomy's unique features is the availability and quality of its products, which can now be rightly classified as PREMIUM and LUX.

Atomy's product philosophy - absolute quality at an absolute price!

- Absolute quality means quality that no-one else on the market can offer at a certain price.
- The absolute price is the lowest possible price without compromising on quality.
